Contents

1. Plot summary
2. Characters
3. Themes
4. Context
5. Key quotations
6. Example questions and responses
1. While returning from a battle victory, Macbeth, a powerful lord, meets three Witches who predict that he will become King of Scotland.

2. Macbeth tells his wife of the Witches' predictions and she encourages him to murder the current king, Duncan, who is staying with them as a guest.

3. After Macduff discovers the murder, Duncan's sons flee the country, leaving the way clear for Macbeth to become king.

4. Banquo, Macbeth's best friend, becomes suspicious of what his friend has done so Macbeth has him murdered too.

5. Macbeth pays a second visit to the Witches and receives more predictions.

6. In England, Malcolm (Duncan's elder son) and his chief supporter, Macduff, plan to invade Scotland to win back the throne. An enraged Macbeth has Macduff's wife and children killed; Macduff swears revenge.

7. Lady Macbeth suffers from guilt for what she has done and eventually commits suicide.

8. Malcolm's invasion is successful and Macduff kills Macbeth. Malcolm becomes the new King of Scotland and the country counts the cost of Macbeth's short but bloody reign.
Plot summary (with quotations)

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Number</th>
<th>Scene</th>
<th>Description</th>
<th>Quotation</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1.1</td>
<td>The play opens with the witches discussing Macbeth: “there to meet with Macbeth”</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1.2</td>
<td>The Captain describes Macbeth’s bravery to the King: “brave Macbeth”. The king says he will make Macbeth Thane of Cawdor: “stars shine on all deservers”</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1.3</td>
<td>The witches meet Macbeth and tell him that he will be Thane of Cawdor and then King. “Thou shalt be king” They tell Banquo that his sons will be King: “Thou shalt get kings, though thou be none” Macbeth begins to imagine being King.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1.4</td>
<td>Macbeth is given the title Thane of Cawdor and Banquo comments that the witches’ predictions were true: “can the devil speak true?” Macbeth mentions how Malcolm stands in the way of his desires. “stars hide your fires, let not light see my black and deep desires”</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1.5</td>
<td>Lady Macbeth reads Macbeth’s letter in which he describes his meeting with the witches; she asks for the spirits to help her persuade Macbeth to do all he needs to become king. “Come ye spirits” “unsex me here” “fill me with direst cruelty” She says she will ask him to “look like the innocent flower but be the serpent under it”</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1.6</td>
<td>Macbeth decides that he will not kill Duncan: “I have no spur to prick the sides of my intent” “we will proceed no further in this business” but then Lady Macbeth enters the stage to persuade him that he must do it: “plucked out my nipple from its boneless gums and dashed the brains out” She tells him that they will be able to frame Duncan’s guards who: “will bear the guilt of our great quell” Macbeth agrees to the murder: “false face must hide what the false heart doth know”</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2.1</td>
<td>Macbeth sees a dagger floating in the air which leads him to Duncan: “is this a dagger I see before me?”</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2.2</td>
<td>After murdering King Duncan Macbeth is afraid: he can’t say “amen” and he is worried about the blood on his hands. “Macbeth doth murder sleep” “look on’t again I dare not” Macbeth has brought the daggers with him which Lady Macbeth has to return to Duncan’s chamber as she is not afraid; she tells her husband to not be a coward: “a little water clears us of this deed” “my hands are of your colour but I shame to wear a heart so white”</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2.3</td>
<td>Macduff is upset at discovering Duncan’s body. Macbeth kills the two guards as he claims he was so angry with them. Malcolm and Donalbain, the King’s sons, are afraid that they may now be murdered so they run away to England and Ireland: “there’s daggers in men’s smiles”</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3.1</td>
<td>Banquo says that he is suspicious about how Macbeth became king: “I fear thou played most fouilly for it” Macbeth then enters to ask Banquo if he is going riding. After Banquo confirms that he is, Macbeth speaks to two murderers and orders them to kill both Banquo and his son, Fleance.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3.2</td>
<td>Macbeth tells Lady Macbeth that he is dealing with Banquo but he doesn’t reveal what he has planned: “be innocent of the knowledge dearest chuck”</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3.3</td>
<td>At Macbeth’s banquet, the murders tell him that the killed Banquo but that Fleance escaped. Macbeth is upset that Fleance still lives but is happy that Banquo is dead: “the grown serpent lies” At his banquet, Macbeth if terrified as he sees the ghost of Banquo: “never shake thy gory locks at me” Afraid, the guests worry what is the matter with Macbeth. Once again Lady Macbeth tells him to be a man. Macbeth is concerned that he isn’t safely the king so he tells Lady Macbeth that he will go back to see the witches. “I will to the weird sisters”</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3.4</td>
<td>People begin to grow suspicious of Macbeth. Lennox wishes Macduff well as he has gone to England to help form an army against Macbeth.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4.1</td>
<td>Macbeth goes back to visit the witches. Macbeth demands to know if he will remain king. The witches call upon three apparitions which tell him: “beware Macduff”, fear “none of woman born” and fear noting until “Birnam Wood come to Dunsinane”. Once the witches have vanished, Macbeth hears from Lennox who tells him that Macduff has gone to England; Macbeth orders the murder of Macduff’s wife and children.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4.2</td>
<td>Macduff’s wife and children are murdered on the orders of Macbeth.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4.3</td>
<td>Malcolm test Macduff’s loyalty to him and to Scotland. After Macduff proves his loyalty, they prepare to attack Macbeth’s castle.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5.1</td>
<td>Lady Macbeth appears on stage for the final time. She appears disturbed as she asks for her hands to be clear of Duncan’s blood, before revealing her guilty secrets. “out, out damn spot” “who would have thought the old man to have had so much blood in him”</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5.2</td>
<td>Macbeth learns that his thanes are abandoning him and that the English army is approaching.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5.3</td>
<td>As the English army approach Macbeth’s castle, Malcolm gives the order for the soldiers to cut down branches from Birnam Wood and hold it in front of them.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5.4</td>
<td>Macbeth learns that his wife is dead and that the English army is approaching: “she should have died hereafter” Macbeth goes out to meet his fate.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5.5</td>
<td>Macbeth fights Young Siward and kills him</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5.6</td>
<td>Macduff and Macbeth do battle. Macbeth says that he can’t be harmed by one of “woman born” but Macduff replies that he was “from his mother’s womb untimely ripp’d”. At first Macbeth is afraid: “I’ll not fight thee” but then says that he will fight him to the death. They fight on and Macduff kills Macbeth. Macduff enters with the head of Macbeth: “the dead butcher and his fiendlike queen”. Malcolm is crowned King of Scotland.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Characer List

Macbeth
Macbeth is a complex character who changes throughout the course of the play. He is clearly a brave warrior and leader at the start of the drama but he falls victim to the Witches' predictions. It is unclear whether they plant ideas in his mind or whether they simply highlight thoughts that he has already had. He repeatedly questions himself about his motives for killing the King but is eventually persuaded to continue by his forceful wife.

Having committed murder he finds himself caught in a spiral of evil from which he can see no escape. His actions become less heroic and more cowardly as he continues to murder and terrorise others (Banquo and Macduff's family) in order to hold on to his power. Towards the end of the play, when he realises that he is doomed, he briefly returns to his old heroic self.

Lady Macbeth
Lady Macbeth is even more ambitious and ruthless than her husband. As soon as an opportunity to gain power presents itself, she has a plan in mind. She uses her influence to persuade Macbeth that they are taking the right course of action and even takes part in the crime herself.

For a while she is able to suppress her actions but eventually she becomes unable to deal with the guilt of what she has done. She becomes unable to sleep, and mentally unstable, eventually dying in tragic circumstances.

Banquo
Banquo is another general in King Duncan's army and Macbeth's best friend. While both men have ambitious thoughts, Banquo is more cautious and does not resort to murder to get what he wants.

Banquo is aware that the Witches' predictions may be tricking Macbeth into evil actions and is the first to suspect Macbeth of murder. He dies while protecting his son, Fleance, and comes back as a ghost to haunt Macbeth.

Macduff
Macduff, the Thane of Fife, is Macbeth's deadly enemy. He discovers Duncan's body and becomes Malcolm's chief supporter, following him to England to support him in raising an army against Macbeth. When he learns of the murders of his wife and family, Macduff feels guilty about leaving them and driven by a need for revenge.

According to the Witches' prediction, Macduff is the only one who can stop Macbeth. The two men meet face-to-face on the battlefield and Macduff kills Macbeth.

The witches
Although there is clearly more than one of them, the Witches may be seen as seem as a single character; they are often referred to as "The Weird Sisters".

Their predictions drive matters forward though they never actually suggest direct action. Rather, they plant ideas in Macbeth's mind and let his ambition do the rest. Many of their predictions are ambiguous.

King Duncan
The good King of Scotland whom Macbeth, in his ambition for the crown, murders. Duncan is the model of a virtuous, compassionate, and farsighted ruler. His death symbolizes the destruction of an order in Scotland that can be restored only when Duncan’s line, in the person of Malcolm, once more occupies the throne.

Malcolm
The son of Duncan, whose restoration to the throne signals Scotland’s return to order following Macbeth’s reign of terror. Malcolm becomes a serious challenge to Macbeth with Macduff’s aid (and the support of England). Prior to this, he appears weak and uncertain of his own power, as when he and Donalbain flee Scotland after their father’s murder.
Ambition, power and greed

- After the witches' predictions, Macbeth's ambition is contrasted to Banquo's loyalty
- Macbeth demands that the witches speak to him
- As soon as Macbeth speaks to the witches he thinks about becoming King
- Lady Macbeth wants to be Queen and her husband to be King
- Macbeth says that ambition is his only reason to kill King Duncan
- Macbeth kills King Duncan because he wants to be the King
- Banquo recognises Macbeth's ambition and worries he might have killed King Duncan
- Macbeth orders the murder of Banquo and his son as he is afraid he will lose his power
- Again, worried about his power, Macbeth goes back to the witches
- Consumed with power, he orders the murder of Macduff's wife and children
- Believing that he is invincible, Macbeth waits in his castle for the English army
- Lady Macbeth, no longer powerful, dies off stage
- With the death of Macbeth, rightful power is restored at the end of the play

Loyalty and kingship

- The Thane of Cawdor is executed for betraying King Duncan
- Macbeth is given that title for being loyal to King Duncan. Macbeth says he fights for “loyalty”
- Macbeth decides that he cannot kill King Duncan as he wants to be loyal to him
- Macbeth betrays King Duncan and murders him
- Out of loyalty to King Duncan, Macduff does not attend Macduff's coronation
- Macbeth doesn't think that Banquo is loyal to him and so has him killed
- Malcolm tests Macduff's loyalty to him and King Duncan – he passes this test
- Macduff kills Macbeth as he wants the true King on the throne
- Malcolm, the rightful heir, is King at the end of the play

Guilt

- Macbeth thinks about killing King Duncan but recognises that it is wrong
- Lady Macbeth persuades Macbeth to kill King Duncan as the guard will "bear the guilt" of the murder
- After murdering King Duncan, Macbeth is consumed with guilt
- Lady Macbeth tells Macbeth not to think about the death as the guards will be blamed
- Macbeth sees Banquo's ghost – suggesting that he feels guilty about his murder
- Lady Macbeth sleepwalks seeing blood on her hands – suggesting she feels guilty
- Consumed with guilt, Lady Macbeth commits suicide offstage
- At the end of the play, Macbeth does not seem concerned with the death of King Duncan or Banquo

Death, violence and conflict

- Violence is celebrated at the start of the play – because Macbeth and Banquo have won the battle
- King Duncan and the Captain describe Macbeth’s violent fighting
- Macbeth and Lady Macbeth argue about killing King Duncan
- Macbeth suffers internal conflict of conscience
- Macbeth murders King Duncan
- Macbeth and Lady Macbeth are covered in King Duncan's blood
- Macbeth orders the death of Banquo and Fleance – he celebrates Banquo’s murder
- Conflicted, Lady Macbeth dies
- Macduff kills Macbeth
- Macbeth’s death is celebrated
Light and dark
- In the play, light represents good and the dark represents evil.
- The play opens with thunder and lightning – it introduces a dark atmosphere.
- King Duncan says it’s difficult to know what people are thinking – “no art to find the mind’s construction in the face.”
- He also describes the light “shining on deservers.”
- Macbeth asks the “stars to hide their fires” so people don’t know his “desires.”
- He later says that he will have a “false face” to hide his “false heart.”
- Duncan is murdered in his “innocent sleep.”
- Following Duncan’s death the sun doesn’t rise as the world is in chaos “night strangles light.”
- Before Banquo’s murder, his torch goes out.
- Malcolm tells Macduff that even the “brightest angel fell” – meaning that all are capable of evil.
- At the end of the play, Lady Macbeth had to have a light by her side.
- Macbeth reacts to Lady Macbeth’s death by saying “out brief candle” – showing he felt she brought light.

Blood and water
- At the start of the play, the Captain escribes the bloody battle.
- Macbeth sees visions of a blood covered dagger.
- Macbeth is scared by Duncan’s blood – he says it would turn all of the seas red.
- Lady Macbeth says that they can wash the blood away.
- Macbeth celebrates Banquo’s blood being on the murderer’s face.
- The ghost of Banquo is covered in blood.
- At the end of the play, Lady Macbeth sees the blood on her hands.
- Macbeth is killed and his head is chopped off.

Masculinity/Manliness
- Macbeth’s bravery is celebrated at the beginning of the play.
- Macbeth describes his wife as his “partner of greatness.”
- Lady Macbeth worries that her husband is too “kind” to kill King Duncan.
- Lady Macbeth tells her husband that he won’t be a man if he doesn’t kill King Duncan.
- Macbeth kills King Duncan in his sleep.
- Lady Macbeth has to guide Macbeth after King Duncan’s murder.
- After seeing Banquo’s ghost, she again tells him to be a man.
- Macduff is upset at the death of his wife and children but others tell him to take the news like a man.
- Macduff wants revenge against Macbeth.
- At the end of the play, we are reminded of Macbeth’s bravery.
- Macbeth and Macduff fight to the death.

The supernatural
- The witches open the play at set the atmosphere of the action to come.
- Macbeth has complete belief in the witches and their prophecies.
- Lady Macbeth asks for the evil spirits help to persuade her husband to murder King Duncan.
- Macbeth sees visions of a dagger and then later Banquo’s ghost.
- After King Duncan’s death, the world is thrown into chaos.
- Macbeth is so consumed that he returns to see the witches.
- Lady Macbeth’s sleep is haunted and she kills herself.
- The witches trick Macbeth with their predictions.
Context

Macbeth was written by Shakespeare in approximately 1606. The early 17th century was a time of unrest, suspicion and superstition. A new king had just come to power and the future of the country seemed quite uncertain. Shakespeare’s play reflects these changes.

A king in Shakespeare's time was thought to rule by 'divine right'. This meant that God had chosen that person directly to rule over others. The killing of a king (known as regicide) was therefore considered to be just about the worst crime that anyone could commit. That is why Macbeth's decision to murder Duncan seemed so horrific to an audience of the time and why the murderer has such a guilty conscience.

The new King on the throne of England, James I (also known as James VI of Scotland), was paranoid about assassination attempts. This was unsurprising, since the infamous Gunpowder Plot to blow up the King and Parliament had taken place just months before Macbeth was first performed. Many of Macbeth’s themes resonate with the attempted revolt: it’s a play about treason, the overthrow of a King, and the downfall of his murderers.

King James also believed in dark magic and the supernatural. He wrote a book called Daemonologie in which he supported and encouraged the trials of witches. He believed the witches were controlled by the devil. Many in his audience would have also believed in these things, and certainly all of them would have been entertained by them. This is one of the reasons that Shakespeare decided to include the characters of the witches. The witches also represent danger and evil and present a world linked to the devil. By being tempted by the witches (devil), Shakespeare shows how the world can be thrown into chaos. This would encourage the audience to be loyal to the King and to God.

In both Shakespeare's time and in the time when the play takes place, women had a much lower status than would be the case today. Wives were little more than the property of their husbands and had no legal rights. Their main purpose was to have children and support men.

Lady Macbeth appears to be a much more feisty character with ambitions and desires of her own; these are characteristics that could imply a lack of femininity. It is worth remembering that in the original performances of the play the part of Lady Macbeth would have been played by a man and this would have helped to emphasise the character’s masculine qualities.
Key Quotations

Macbeth

- “brave Macbeth” “Signs of nobleness, like stars, shall shine on all deservers” 1.2 (Captain and Duncan giving him praise)
- “I have no spur to prick the sides of my intent” 1.3 (has no reason to kill Duncan)
- “stars hide your fires! Let not light see my black and deep desires” 1.4 (thinking of killing Duncan)
- “Yet do I fear thy nature; It is too full o’ the milk of human kindness.” 1.5 (L. Macbeth worries Macbeth is too virtuous)
- “we will proceed no further in this business” 1.7 (he decides not to kill Duncan)
- “False face must hide what the false heart doth know” 1.7 (he has been persuaded by L Macbeth)
- “Is this a dagger I see before me, Come, let me clutch thee” 2.1 (hallucinating before the murder)
- “Sleep no more! Macbeth does murder sleep!” 2.2 (after killing Duncan)
- “To be thus is nothing/But to be safely thus. Our fears in Banquo/Stick deep” 3.1 (is worried about what Banquo knows)
- “By the pricking of my thumbs, Something wicked this way comes.” 4.1 (the witches know he’s returning)
- “I will not be afraid of death and bane Till Birnam forest come to Dunsinane” 5.3 (he believes the prophecies)
- “Out, out, brief candle!” 5.5 (about the death of Lady Macbeth)
- “devil,” “hellhound” “abhorred tyrant” “rarer monster” and “follower of Satan” 5.6 (Macduff and others)
- “Yet I will try the last: before my body I throw my warlike shield: lay on, Macduff” 5.8 (he reminds the audience of his bravery)
- “dead butcher and his fiend-like queen” 5.8 (Malcolm describes Macbeth)

Lady Macbeth

- “my partner of greatness” (Macbeth 1.5)
- “Yet do I fear thy nature; It is too full o’ th’ milk of human kindness” (1.5)
- “I may pour my spirits in thine ear” (1.5)
- “Come, you spirits/That tend on mortal thoughts, unsex me here/And fill me from the crown to the toe top-full/Of direst cruelty.” (1.5)
- “Come, thick night/And pall thee in the dunnest smoke of hell,/That my keen knife see not the wound it makes”(1.5)
- “Look like th' innocent flower,/But be the serpent under 't.” (1.5)
- “Art thou afeard/To be the same in thine own act and valour/As thou art in desire?” (1.7)
- “I would, while it was smiling in my face,/Have plucked my nipple from his boneless gums/And dashed the brains out” (1.7)
- “But screw your courage to the sticking-place,/And we'll not fail.” (1.7)
- “His spongy officers, who shall bear the guilt/Of our great quell” (1.7)
- “These deeds must not be thought” (2.2)
- “Give me the daggers.” (2.2)
- “a little water clears us of this deed” (2.2)
- “My hands are of your colour, but I shame/To wear a heart so white.” (2.2)
- “Be honest of the knowledge dearest chuck” (Macbeth 3.2)
- “Yet here's a spot...Out, damned spot! out, I say!” (5.1)
- “who would have thought the old man/to have had so much blood in him.” (5.1)
- “What, will these hands ne'er be clean?” (5.1)
- “all the/perfumes of Arabia will not sweeten this little/hand!” (5.1)
- “She should have died hereafter./There would have been a time for such a word” (Macbeth 5.5)
Starting with this speech explain how far you think Shakespeare presents Macbeth as a hero.

Write about:

- How Shakespeare presents Macbeth in this speech
- How Shakespeare presents Macbeth in the play as a whole

30 Marks
Starting with this speech explain how far you think Shakespeare presents Macbeth as a hero.

Within the extract Macbeth is presented as courageous and heroic. The Captain describes how “valor’s minion carved out his [Macbeth’s] passage” when fighting against the enemy. This suggests that Macbeth is bravery personified and that no man would be able to stop him from winning the battle. Shakespeare’s use of the metaphor “carving out a passage” highlights the key theme of violence within the play; the verb “carving” illustrates the death and destruction that Macbeth created for the enemy. Shakespeare appears to be showing the audience that Macbeth is a heroic warrior who will risk his own life to protect the king; like all men in Britain in the 17th century, Macbeth would have been expected to be loyal to the king. It is interesting that, at the beginning of the play, Macbeth’s violence is celebrated and that the Captain places so much emphasis on this through gruesome, bloody imagery, as it is this violence that later condemns Macbeth: and the blood goes on to represent his guilt. In particular, his violence is condemned in the final scenes of the play where he is described as a “butcher” and “tyrant” for his violence against the king and others. Although the Captain’s initial description of Macbeth, which is the first real portrayal of him within the play, presents him as a valiant and brave hero, he cannot be described as heroic by the end of the play.

Your response

_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
Read the following extract from Act 1 Scene 3 and then answer the question that follows.

At this point in the play, Macbeth has just been told by the three witches that he will become king.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>MACBETH (Aside)</th>
<th>Two truths are told</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>As happy prologues to the swelling act</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Of the Imperial Theme. – I Thank you gentlemen. -</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>This Supernatural soliciting</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Cannot Be ill, cannot be good. If ill,</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Why hath it given me earnest of success,</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Commencing in a truth? I am thane of Cawdor.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>If good, why do I yield to that suggestion</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Whose horrid image doth unfix my hair</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>And make my seated heart knock at my ribs</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Against the use of nature? Present fears</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Are less than horrible imaginings</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>My thought, whose murder yet is but fantastical,</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Shakes so my single state of man</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>That function is smothered in surmise</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>And nothing is but what is not.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Starting with this speech explain how far you think Shakespeare presents Macbeth as ambitious.

Write about:

- How Shakespeare presents Macbeth’s feelings and thoughts in this extract
- How Shakespeare presents Macbeth’s ambition in the play as a whole

30 Marks
Starting with this speech explain how far you think Shakespeare presents Macbeth as ambitious.

Example A
Within the extract Macbeth is presented as being confused. This is evident when he says “supernatural soliciting/Cannot Be ill, cannot be good” suggesting that he wants to become king. Shakespeare shows that Macbeth is ambitious but unsure as he says “good” and “ill”. The Shakespearean audience would expect a man to be brave and courageous but they may be a bit shocked that Macbeth was going against the king. What Macbeth says links to the key theme of the supernatural and suggests that he is now connected to evil. Macbeth is therefore presented as ambitious.

Example B
Within the extract Macbeth is presented as having confused thoughts about becoming king. In an aside, he considers that the “supernatural soliciting/Cannot Be ill, cannot be good” suggesting that he is tempted by the notion of having the crown. Shakespeare presents contrasting thoughts in Macbeth through the juxtaposition of the “good” and “ill” in becoming king; Macbeth appears to be suffering from an inner conflict as he questions his feelings even though he recognises they are wrong. The Shakespearean audience may be fearful of Macbeth’s intentions in becoming king; they would have believed that by going against the king, you were going against God and Macbeth would therefore be damned to hell. This is further emphasised through the allusion to the key theme of the supernatural which Macbeth comments on following his meeting with the witches; it suggests that they have infiltrated his thoughts. The fact that Macbeth is even considering the possibility of killing the king highlights his ambitious and ruthless nature.

Your response:
Starting with this speech explain how far you think Shakespeare presents Lady Macbeth as deceitful.

Write about:
- How Shakespeare presents Lady Macbeth’s feelings and thoughts in this extract
- How Shakespeare presents Lady Macbeth as deceitful in the play as a whole

30 Marks
How does Shakespeare present Lady Macbeth as deceitful?

Within the extract, taken from Act 1 scene 5, Shakespeare presents Lady Macbeth as being infatuated with the thought of her husband becoming king as she feels that “fate and metaphysical aid doth seem/To have thee crowned withal.” This suggests that Lady Macbeth feels that the witches’ prophecies are true and that Macbeth will soon become King. As she mentions “fate” and “metaphysical aid” it shows that she believes in the supernatural, a key theme apparent throughout the play; this key theme links to the devil suggesting that she is connected to evil. As this is Lady Macbeth’s first speech in the play, Shakespeare could be presenting her as a manipulative character who will help cause Duncan’s death and perhaps the downfall of others. The Jacobean audience would be alarmed by Lady Macbeth’s behaviour as women were expected to be submissive of their husbands; here Lady Macbeth’s portrayal challenges the gender roles as she is seen to be aggressive and domineering. This aggressive behaviour continues throughout Act 1 as she is able to persuade her husband to kill the king as she says she would rather “dash the brains” out of her own child than go back on a promise in the way that he has. The Jacobean would be appalled by this violent language used by Lady Macbeth as it highlights a lack of remorse within her character and helps to present her as a deceitful and destructive force within the play.

Your response:

_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
MACBETH

If it were done when 'tis done, then 'twere well
It were done quickly. If the assassination
Could trammel up the consequence, and catch
With his surcease success; that but this blow
Might be the be-all and the end-all here,
But here, upon this bank and shoal of time,
We'd jump the life to come. But in these cases
We still have judgment here, that we but teach
Bloody instructions, which, being taught, return
To plague th' inventor: this even-handed justice
Commends the ingredients of our poisoned chalice
To our own lips. He's here in double trust:
First, as I am his kinsman and his subject,
Strong both against the deed; then, as his host,
Who should against his murderer shut the door,
Not bear the knife myself. Besides, this Duncan
Hath borne his faculties so meek, hath been
So clear in his great office, that his virtues
Will plead like angels, trumpet-tongued, against
The deep damnation of his taking-off;
And pity, like a naked newborn babe,
Striding the blast, or heaven's cherubim, horsed
Upon the sightless couriers of the air,
Shall blow the horrid deed in every eye,
That tears shall drown the wind. I have no spur
To prick the sides of my intent, but only
Vaulting ambition, which o'erleaps itself
And falls on th' other.

Starting with this speech explain how far you think Shakespeare presents Macbeth as ambitious.

Write about:

- How Shakespeare presents Macbeth's feelings and thoughts in this extract
- How Shakespeare presents Macbeth as ambitious in the play as a whole

30 Marks
Starting with this speech explain how far you think Shakespeare presents Macbeth as ambitious.

Act 1 scene 7 opens with Macbeth’s soliloquy in which he discusses Duncan’s murder. Macbeth begins by stating that “If this deed were done when it is done, then it would be better/if it were done quickly.” At this juncture, Macbeth appears to be suffering from a conflict of conscience as Shakespeare presents his inner thoughts and feelings. Shakespeare presents Macbeth as feeling unsure and apprehensive as he can’t bring himself to pronounce the word ‘murder’; instead, he describes this crime as a “deed”. Macbeth recognises that his crime of regicide against the King would be an indirect crime against God and can therefore not fully contemplate the offense. Shakespeare’s use of the adverb “quickly” within the soliloquy suggests that Macbeth feels that if he is to kill Duncan then he needs to be done soon; some may argue that it’s because he cannot wait to become King, highlighting his ambition, whereas other may feel he is frightened that he may change his mind.

However, later in the soliloquy Macbeth is not presented as ambitious as it is apparent that he has decided against killing the King, stating that he has “no spur to prick the sides of his intent”. Macbeth’s sudden change of character highlights his unstable mind and the internal conflict which is currently plaguing him. It appears that Macbeth has no “spur” to kill the King as he feels he is already in a position which is very much respected. It is interesting that Shakespeare uses the metaphor of a “spur” suggesting that Macbeth seems only able to enter into conflict when he feels directly attacked. It is not until the conflict with his wife later in the scene that his “ambition” returns. Shakespeare presents Macbeth as having only one reason to kill Duncan: “vaulting ambition”. This ambition, one of the key themes within the play, appears to be causing inner conflict and struggle for him but he does recognise that murder often leads to more conflict. The Jacobean audience would be relieved that Macbeth has decided against killing the kings as they would recognise that he would be damned to hell for this crime of regicide. However their relief is short lived; by the end of Act 1 Macbeth commits to murdering the King. After a discussion with his wife he states that “false face must hide what the false heart doth know” meaning that his ambition has returned and he will fool Duncan into thinking that he is his ally but will then murder him.

Your response:
Read the following extract from Act 2 Scene 1 and then answer the question that follows.

At this point in the play, Macbeth is considering murdering Duncan and he thinks he sees a dagger in the air in front of him.

MACBETH
Is this a dagger which I see before me,
The handle toward my hand? Come, let me clutch thee.
I have thee not, and yet I see thee still.
Art thou not, fatal vision, sensible
To feeling as to sight? Or art thou but
A dagger of the mind, a false creation,
Proceeding from the heat-oppressèd brain?
I see thee yet, in form as palpable
As this which now I draw.
Thou marshall'st me the way that I was going,
And such an instrument I was to use.
Mine eyes are made the fools o' th' other senses,
Or else worth all the rest. I see thee still,
And on thy blade and dudgeon gouts of blood,
Which was not so before. There's no such thing.
It is the bloody business which informs
Thus to mine eyes. Now o'er the one half-world
Nature seems dead, and wicked dreams abuse
The curtained sleep. Witchcraft celebrates
Pale Hecate's offerings, and withered murder,
Alarumed by his sentinel, the wolf,
Whose howl's his watch, thus with his stealthy pace,
With Tarquin's ravishing strides, towards his design
Moves like a ghost. Thou sure and firm-set earth,
Hear not my steps, which way they walk, for fear
Thy very stones prate of my whereabout,
And take the present horror from the time,
Which now suits with it. Whiles I threat, he lives.
Words to the heat of deeds too cold breath gives.

A bell rings

I go, and it is done. The bell invites me.
Hear it not, Duncan, for it is a knell
That summons thee to heaven or to hell.

Starting with this speech explain how far you think Shakespeare presents Macbeth as conflicted.

Write about:

- How Shakespeare presents Macbeth’s conflicted feelings and thoughts in this extract
- How Shakespeare presents conflict in the play as a whole

30 Marks
Starting with this speech explain how far you think Shakespeare presents Macbeth as conflicted.

Within the extract it is apparent that Macbeth is concerned about murdering Duncan, asking the “firm-set earth,/Hear not my steps, which way they walk, for fear/Thy very stones prate of my whereabout.” This suggests that Macbeth is worried that someone will hear him as he attempts to assassinate Duncan. This once again highlights Macbeth’s fear in committing the crime. It is interesting that Macbeth mentions “fear” as it suggests he is still troubled about the repercussions of the murder and is no longer the “brave” and “noble” soldier we heard about in 1:2. The Jacobean audience would also find it interesting that Macbeth asks for the “earth” to be quiet as the predominantly Christian audience would believe that the earth was created by God and therefore would recognise that he is asking for God’s help to murder the king. Shakespeare raises the key theme of conflict throughout this extract but Macbeth is presented as an unscrupulous character who appears unconcerned that God will know his plans to kill Duncan; this arrogance shows how Macbeth feels he would be a deserving king.

Your response:
Starting with this extract explain how far you think Shakespeare presents a contrast between Macbeth and Lady Macbeth.

Write about:

- How Shakespeare presents Macbeth and Lady Macbeth in this extract
- How Shakespeare presents conflict between Macbeth and Lady Macbeth in the play as a whole

30 Marks
How far does Shakespeare present a contrast between Macbeth and Lady Macbeth?

Example A
Within the extract Macbeth is presented as a troubled character. This is evident when he says “What hands are here? Ha! They pluck out mine eyes.” This suggests that he doesn’t want to think about what he has seen. This implies that he regrets what he has done. The use of the question “what hands?” suggests that he doesn’t recognize himself. The Jacobean audience may think that Macbeth is feeling guilty about killing the king. In the 17th century many believed that the king was linked to god and so going against the king was going against god. Because Macbeth has gone against the king he will now go to hell. Macbeth is also troubled later in the play when he sees the ghost of Banquo at his banquet as he is fearful of things around him. This shows the theme of conflict with is throughout Macbeth.

Example B
Within the extract Shakespeare presents Macbeth as being profoundly troubled by the murder of Duncan. As he looks down at his hands Macbeth remarks “What hands are here? Ha! They pluck out mine eyes.” As Lady Macbeth has left the stage, the audience are given an insight into his disturbed state of mind through this soliloquy and it is apparent that he is unable to look at his bloody hands; some may argue that the blood on Macbeth’s hands is a metaphor for the guilt now seeping into his soul. It appears that Macbeth is appalled at what he has done and recognises the degeneration that has led him to commit such a despicable deed. Shakespeare’s use of the metaphor to describe Macbeth’s hands “plucking out his eyes” further alludes to the guilt that is consuming Macbeth at this stage in the play; he is unable to even think about his crime. The Jacobean audience would now fear for Macbeth’s fate; after witnessing his malevolent behaviour and committing this immoral act of regicide they would recognise that he will be damned to hell and may see this as the first stage of his degeneration. This is a damnation that Macbeth was fully aware of as he himself described it in 1.7 that he was against “the deep damnation of his [Duncan’s] taking off”. In the previous act Macbeth was fully aware of the ramifications of committing such a crime but after conflict with Lady Macbeth he was persuaded to go against the Divine Right of Kings, leaving him now clearly concerned with his own sinful actions.
Read the following extract from Act 3 Scene 2 of Macbeth and then answer the question that follows.

At this point in the play, Macbeth is beginning to lose control and is suspicious of everyone, even his best friend Banquo.

MACBETH
O, full of scorpions is my mind, dear wife!
Thou know'st that Banquo, and his Fleance, lives.

LADY MACBETH
But in them nature's copy's not eterne.

MACBETH
There's comfort yet; they are assailable;
Then be thou jocund: ere the bat hath flown
His cloister'd flight, ere to black Hecate's summons
The shard-borne beetle with his drowsy hums
Hath rung night's yawning peal, there shall be done
A deed of dreadful note.

LADY MACBETH
What's to be done?

MACBETH
Be innocent of the knowledge, dearest chuck,
Till thou applaud the deed. Come, seeling night,
Scarf up the tender eye of pitiful day;
And with thy bloody and invisible hand
Cancel and tear to pieces that great bond
Which keeps me pale! Light thickens; and the crow
Makes wing to the rooky wood:
Good things of day begin to droop and drowse;
While night's black agents to their preys do rouse.
Thou marvell'st at my words: but hold thee still;
Things bad begun make strong themselves by ill.

Starting with this speech, explain how you think Shakespeare presents Macbeth’s state of mind.

Write about:

- How Shakespeare presents Macbeth’s state of mind in this speech
- How Shakespeare presents Macbeth’s state of mind in the play as a whole

Your response

_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________________
Read the following extract from Act 3 Scene 4 and then answer the question that follows.

At this point in the play, the murderers have just returned after killing Banquo.

MACBETH (aside to FIRST MURDERER) There’s blood upon thy face.

FIRST MURDERER ‘Tis Banquo’s then.

MACBETH ‘Tis better thee without than he within. Is he dispatched?

FIRST MURDERER My lord, his throat is cut. That I did for him.

MACBETH Thou art the best o’ th’ cutthroats: Yet he’s good that did the like for Fleance. If thou didst it, thou art the nonpareil.

FIRST MURDERER Most royal sir, Fleance is ‘scape.

MACBETH Then comes my fit again. I had else been perfect, Whole as the marble, founded as the rock, As broad and general as the casing air. But now I am cabined, cribbed, confined, bound in To saucy doubts and fears.—But Banquo’s safe?

FIRST MURDERER Ay, my good lord. Safe in a ditch he bides, With twenty trenchèd gashes on his head, The least a death to nature.

MACBETH Thanks for that. There the grown serpent lies. The worm that’s fled Hath nature that in time will venom breed; No teeth for th’ present. Get thee gone. Tomorrow We’ll hear ourselves again.

Starting with this extract, explain how Shakespeare presents Macbeth as a villainous character.

Write about:

- How Shakespeare presents Macbeth as villainous in this extract
- How Shakespeare presents villainy in the play as a whole

30 marks
Starting with this extract, explain how Shakespeare presents Macbeth as a villainous character.

Example A
Within the extract, Macbeth is presented as a villainous character. This is evident when he says “Tis better thee without than he within.” Macbeth is stating that he would rather Banquo’s blood be on the face of the murderers that still inside Banquo. This implies that he is happy about the death of his friend. This helps to highlight a villainous character who only thinks about themselves. The Jacobean audience would see that Macbeth has become obsessed with killing. Although Scottish men were expected to be brave, Macbeth is murdering without reason. The audience would be fearful of Macbeth’s current state of mind. He seems very different from earlier in the play. In the first Act he didn’t want to kill Duncan and in Act 2 he regretting the murder whereas in Act 3 he takes pleasure in Banquo’s death. Shakespeare presents Macbeth as a villainous character who will not stop until he gets everything he wants.

Example B
Within the extract, Macbeth is presented as a villainous and malicious character. After meeting with those he dispatched to kill Banquo, Macbeth notes that the blood on the murderer’s face “Tis better thee without than he within” before nonchalantly asking “Is he dispatched?” It is apparent that Macbeth is clearly unmoved by the death of Banquo and feels no remorse for betraying his friend. His speech remarking how it is “better thee without” seems almost mocking and it could be argued that Macbeth appears to be taking pleasure in the blood of Banquo not being “within”; this helps to highlight a villainous character who rejoices in the death of his friend. Shakespeare juxtaposes Macbeth’s callous reaction to the death of Banquo with the death of Duncan in Act 2 where he “feared to look” on him to illustrate how Macbeth’s ambition is manifesting itself into violence and he has become clouded by power and greed. Shakespeare further highlights this degeneration of character by having Macbeth tell his wife to be “innocent of the knowledge” of the murder of Banquo, as opposed to him seemingly acting under duress from her in the opening two acts. The Jacobean audience may recognise that Macbeth’s degeneration is a result of him killing the king and bringing chaos into the world; the pleasure that he derives from Banquo’s murder is further evidence of his decent into hell.

Your response:
Read the following extract from Act 4 Scene 1 and then answer the question that follows.

At this point in the play, Macbeth has gone back to visit the witches who call on apparitions to tell Macbeth about his future.

MACBETH
How now, you secret, black, and midnight hags?
What is 't you do?

ALL
A deed without a name.

MACBETH
I conjure you by that which you profess—
Howe'er you come to know it—answer me.
Though you untie the winds and let them fight
Against the churches, though the yeasty waves
Confound and swallow navigation up,
Though bladed corn be lodged and trees blown down,
Though castles topple on their warders' heads,
Though palaces and pyramids do slope
Their heads to their foundations, though the treasure
Of nature's germens tumble all together,
Even till destruction sicken, answer me
To what I ask you.

FIRST WITCH
Speak.

SECOND WITCH
Demand.

THIRD WITCH
We'll answer.

FIRST WITCH
Say, if th' hadst rather hear it from our mouths,
Or from our masters'.

MACBETH
Call 'em. Let me see 'em.

FIRST WITCH
Pour in sow's blood, that hath eaten
Her nine farrow; grease that's sweaten
From the murderer's gibbet throw
Into the flame.

ALL
Come, high or low;
Thyself and office deftly show!

Thunder. FIRST APPARITION: an armed head

MACBETH
Tell me, thou unknown power—
FIRST WITCH
He knows thy thought.
Hear his speech but say thou nought.

FIRST APPARITION
Macbeth! Macbeth! Macbeth! Beware Macduff.
Beware the thane of Fife. Dismiss me. Enough.

Descends

MACBETH
Whate'er thou art, for thy good caution, thanks.
Thou hast harped my fear aright. But one word more—

FIRST WITCH
He will not be commanded. Here's another
More potent than the first.

Thunder. SECOND APPARITION: a bloody child

SECOND APPARITION
Macbeth! Macbeth! Macbeth!—

MACBETH
Had I three ears, I'd hear thee.

SECOND APPARITION
Be bloody, bold, and resolute. Laugh to scorn
The power of man, for none of woman born
Shall harm Macbeth.

Descends

MACBETH
Then live, Macduff. What need I fear of thee?
But yet I'll make assurance double sure,
And take a bond of fate. Thou shalt not live,
That I may tell pale-hearted fear it lies,
And sleep in spite of thunder.

Starting with this extract explain how far you think Shakespeare presents the supernatural as evil.

Write about:

- How Shakespeare presents the supernatural in this extract
- How Shakespeare presents the supernatural in the play as a whole

30 Marks
Starting with this extract explain how far you think Shakespeare presents the supernatural as evil.

Within the extract Shakespeare presents the supernatural as evil as it is apparent that Macbeth is obsessed with the witches’ prophecies. When the second apparition starts speaking to Macbeth he states: “Had I three ears, I’d hear thee.” This suggests that Macbeth is infatuated with the prophecies and is eager to learn more about his fate. The metaphor of Macbeth wanting “three ears” to hear implies that he is fixated with the information that the witches are giving him; some may argue that Macbeth appears almost possessed at this point in the play. It could be argued that Shakespeare wanted to show the power that evil could have. In the 16th and 17th century, many people believed in fate and the Jacobean audience would recognise that Macbeth is placing great faith in the prophecies of the witches and that he is allowing his destiny to be controlled by these mysterious forces. The witches in Macbeth symbolise evil and Shakespeare uses the theme of the supernatural throughout the play as a warning against seeking out forbidden knowledge. The audience are given an insight into the evil nature of the witches from the opening scene of the play (1.1) as they chant together in rhyme “upon the heath/there to meet with Macbeth” which foreshadows the destruction that they will help to cause.

Your response:
Read the following extract from Act 5 Scene 1 and then answer the question that follows.

At this point in the play, a Doctor and a Gentlewoman are observing Lady Macbeth as she appears to be sleepwalking around the castle.

LADY MACBETH
Yet here's a spot.

DOCTOR
Hark! she speaks: I will set down what comes from her, to satisfy my remembrance the more strongly.

LADY MACBETH
Out, damned spot! out, I say!--One: two: why, then, 'tis time to do't.--Hell is murky!--Fie, my lord, fie! a soldier, and afeard? What need we fear who knows it, when none can call our power to account?--Yet who would have thought the old man to have had so much blood in him.

DOCTOR
Do you mark that?

LADY MACBETH
The thane of Fife had a wife: where is she now?--What, will these hands ne'er be clean?--No more o' that, my lord, no more o' that: you mar all with this starting.

DOCTOR
Go to, go to; you have known what you should not. Gentlewoman She has spoke what she should not, I am sure of that: heaven knows what she has known.

LADY MACBETH
Here's the smell of the blood still: all the perfumes of Arabia will not sweeten this little hand. Oh, oh, oh!

Starting with this speech explain how far you think Shakespeare presents Lady Macbeth as disturbed.

Write about:

- How Shakespeare presents Lady Macbeth’s feelings and thoughts in this extract
- How Shakespeare presents Lady Macbeth as disturbed in the play as a whole

30 Marks
Starting with this extract explain how far you think Shakespeare presents Lady Macbeth as disturbed.

Within the extract, Lady Macbeth is presented as disturbed. This is evident as she remarks: “Fie, my/lord, fie! a soldier, and afeard? What need we/fear who knows it, when none can call our power to/account?” The fact that Shakespeare has Lady Macbeth reiterate her dialogue from earlier in the play highlights that she has not been able to move on since the murder of Duncan. It suggests that she has been consumed with guilt and is overwhelmed at the severity of the situation that she is in. It could be argued that it is ironic that Lady Macbeth asks “what need we fear?” when she is clearly troubled by the murder of Duncan; Shakespeare presents her as a very different character from the one in 2.2 who appeared to feel no remorse over his death. The Jacobean audience would recognised that she has degenerated from a strong and forceful female character into a weak and passive one who now adheres to expected gender stereotypes; women were expected to be submissive in the 17th century and this is clearly how she is being portrayed on stage. The audience may recognise that the “spirits” that she called on in 1.5 have plagued her mind and infected her soul and that she has been “unsexed” as she no longer appears human. This is the final scene that Lady Macbeth appears on stage and she is evidently very disturbed.

Your response:
Read the following extract from Act 5 Scene 5 and then answer the question that follows.

At this point in the play, Macbeth is waiting for the castle to be attacked.

---

A cry within of women

MACBETH
What is that noise?

SEYTON
It is the cry of women, my good lord.

MACBETH
I have almost forgot the taste of fears.
The time has been my senses would have cooled
To hear a night-shriek, and my fell of hair
Would at a dismal treatise rouse and stir
As life were in ’t. I have supped full with horrors.
Direnness, familiar to my slaughterous thoughts
Cannot once start me.

Enter SEYTON

MACBETH
Wherefore was that cry?

SEYTON
The queen, my lord, is dead

MACBETH
She should have died hereafter.
There would have been a time for such a word.
Tomorrow, and tomorrow, and tomorrow,
Creeps in this petty pace from day to day
To the last syllable of recorded time,
And all our yesterdays have lighted fools
The way to dusty death. Out, out, brief candle!
Life’s but a walking shadow, a poor player
That struts and frets his hour upon the stage
And then is heard no more. It is a tale
Told by an idiot, full of sound and fury,
Signifying nothing.

---

Starting with these speeches, explain how Shakespeare presents Macbeth’s state of mind.

Write about:

- How Shakespeare presents Macbeth in this extract
- How Shakespeare presents Macbeth in the play as a whole
Starting with these speeches, explain how Shakespeare presents Macbeth’s state of mind.

Within the extract it is apparent that Macbeth is too consumed with power to feel saddened by the death of his wife. This is evident when he states “she should have died hereafter”. This response appears to suggest a total lack of regard for his wife as he simply remarks that she would have died at some point so there is little need to mourn her death. This opening to his speech suggests no sadness towards his wife, nor does it illustrate that Macbeth is feeling any grief. However there is some evidence of his deeper feelings towards Lady Macbeth as he later remarks “out, out brief candle”. Here the imagery is far more sympathetic as it hints as a warmth and tenderness in their relationship. The repetition of “out” sounds almost melancholic and Macbeth appears to break away from his monologue to reflect on his wife. The “brief candle” also helps to illustrate his feelings of Lady Macbeth being a character who brought him life and that her presence on earth was not long enough. It is somewhat ironic that Macbeth chooses to describe her as a “candle” as, in the final act, just before her death, she needed to have light by her side at all times as she was consumed by darkness. Rather than a bringer of light, the Jacobean audience would recognise her as one who brought this darkness to the stage and the imagery of light and dark surrounds her character throughout the play.

Your response:
Read the following extract from Act 5 Scene 8 and then answer the question that follows.

At this point in the play, Macbeth’s castle has been attacked and he is about to face Macduff.

MACDUFF
  Turn, hellhound, turn!

MACBETH
  Of all men else I have avoided thee.
  But get thee back. My soul is too much charged
  With blood of thine already

MACDUFF
  I have no words.
  My voice is in my sword. Thou bloodier villain
  Than terms can give thee out!

MACBETH
  Thou lostest labor.
  As easy mayst thou the intrenched air
  With thy keen sword impress as make me bleed.
  Let fall thy blade on vulnerable crests;
  I bear a charmèd life, which must not yield
  To one of woman born.

MACDUFF
  Despair thy charm,
  And let the angel whom thou still hast served
  Tell thee, Macduff was from his mother’s womb
  Untimely ripped.

MACBETH
  Accursèd be that tongue that tells me so,
  For it hath cowed my better part of man!
  And be these juggling fiends no more believed,
  That palter with us in a double sense,
  That keep the word of promise to our ear,
  And break it to our hope. I’ll not fight with thee.

MACDUFF
  Then yield thee, coward,
  And live to be the show and gaze o’ th’ time.
  We’ll have thee, as our rarer monsters are,
  Painted on a pole, and underwrit,
  “Here may you see the tyrant.”

MACBETH
  I will not yield,
  To kiss the ground before young Malcolm’s feet,
  And to be baited with the rabble’s curse.
  Though Birnam Wood be come to Dunsinane,
  And thou opposed, being of no woman born,
  Yet I will try the last. Before my body
  I throw my warlike shield. Lay on, Macduff,
  And damned be him that first cries, “Hold, enough!”

Starting with this extract, explain how Shakespeare presents the conflict between Macbeth and Macduff.

Write about:

- How Shakespeare presents Macbeth and Macduff in this extract
- How Shakespeare presents conflict in the play as a whole
Starting with this extract, explain how Shakespeare presents the conflict between Macbeth and Macduff.

Within the extract, Shakespeare presents a great conflict between Macbeth and Macduff. This is evident at the beginning of the extract when Macbeth states: “But get thee back. My soul is too much charged/With blood of thine already.” The use of the imperative “get thee back” suggests that Macbeth feels powerful and in control. It could also be argued that he is trying to antagonise Macduff by talking about being “charged” with the “blood” of his family; this highlights a ruthless side to Macbeth character. Shakespeare once again raises the key theme of guilt as it is apparent that Macbeth feels no remorse for his actions; the audience would recognise a great change in Macbeth as in Act 2 he worried that his hands would “ne’er be clean” and now he appears to be celebrating the “blood” and the murder as opposed to being afraid of it. This scene highlights the degeneration of a once brave and loyal character into one who acts selfishly, stirred on by the words of the witches whom he trusts so much. The Jacobean audience may also find it ironic that Macbeth mentions his “soul” as the largely Christian audience would believe that his soul would be damned to hell after murdering the King, Banquo and Macduff’s family. At this point in the play, Macbeth seems to be celebrating conflict rather than fearing it.

Your response: