Year 8 Online 'CAF' Assessments – w/c 25th January

Dear Parent

We are really pleased with the continued commitment and focus being shown by Year 8 students in completing their 'online learning'. As per our previous communication, we are writing to remind you that from Monday, students will be sitting online assessments across their subjects. Staff are scheduling the online assessments for students in the same way that online lessons are set to calendars and students should know when each of their subject assessments is and have completed revision tasks set in advance.

The online assessments will cover content from the year so far, and will give a good indication of how well students have engaged in their learning throughout the year, as well as how well they've understood work completed at home.

Some key points to ensure the successful completion of the online assessments:

- Students should join their lesson promptly for registration as normal, then commence the assessment task when instructed by the teacher
- Students should complete their online assessments independently, without help from others or the internet
- If students miss their assigned assessment lesson due to technical issues, they should let their teacher know and the assessment will be re-set for them.

We wish the students the best of luck in completing the assessments. The results will contribute to options subject considerations in the coming term. The curriculum pathway (options) process will be launched to students and parents in the coming weeks via online presentations, with exact dates to follow.

Yours faithfully
